

nikolatsolovfan.com — Session Handoff

Summary of the page development & SEO session. Use this as context when starting a new session focused on social media / promotion.

Date: 15 May 2026

Project Overview

Subject: Nikola Tsolov, 19, Bulgarian, Campos Racing #6, Red Bull Junior Team. Currently leading the 2026 FIA Formula 2 championship after 2 rounds. First Bulgarian ever to win an F2 race (Melbourne Feature, March 2026).

Goal: Grow organic traffic via SEO + social media promotion. Site is unmonetized, fan-built, single-page HTML.

What we shipped this session

1. SEO — Structured data and content signals

- Added FAQPage JSON-LD schema with 13 Q&A entries (originally 6, expanded by 7 in this session) targeting long-tail searches: 'Who is Nikola Tsolov', 'Tsolov age', 'Tsolov nationality', 'Tsolov height', 'Tsolov car number', 'is Tsolov Red Bull Junior', 'has Tsolov won an F2 race', etc.
- Added visually hidden SEO-rich H3 headings to Stats, Timeline, and Season sections (sr-only style, keyword-targeted).
- Updated meta description and keywords to include 'F2 2026 results', 'career timeline', 'The Bulgarian Lion'.
- Verified via Google Rich Results Test: 19 valid items detected, FAQ + Events + Breadcrumbs + Videos all valid.

2. Ranking confirmed

- Page 1 on Google for 'Nikola Tsolov stats' — confirmed by user mid-session.
- Hidden h3 'Nikola Tsolov career stats — F2 wins, F3 record, poles, podiums' is what triggered it.

3. AI-slop audit and fixes (3 quick wins applied)

- Cut 'The dream of F1 has never been closer' from the 2026 timeline entry.
- Re-captioned the lion morph image as 'fan-made / AI-assisted illustration' (honest labeling protects credibility).
- Replaced hero tagline 'Once doubted whether he'd ever leave karting' with factual 'Campos Racing · #6'.
- Outstanding (NOT applied yet — optional): remove the lion-morph AI image entirely, replace 'fearless attacking driving style' in FAQ, reduce em-dash usage.

4. Bug fixes

- Standings table: added text-align: right to td.col-wins so the win-count badges align under the 'Wins' header.

5. New image added

- File renamed: meet-f3-main.webp → nikola-tsolov-f2-campos-racing.webp (SEO filename).

- Added to gallery with alt/caption: 'Nikola Tsolov in FIA Formula 2 with Campos Racing · Bulgarian Red Bull Junior driver, 2026 season'.
- Gallery renderer extended to support per-image objectPosition; this photo set to center 20% to fix head-crop.

Current site state (key facts to know)

Social media & promotion — current state

Reddit

- Previous post (~1 week ago): got real engagement, 1 'AI slop' comment out of 13 (dismissed as noise).
- Second post drafted in this session — news-led, P17→P1 Melbourne angle, link in first comment.
- Latest post performance: 558 views in ~1h, 2 substantive engaged replies, 0 negative, link comment got upvotes.
- Reply drafts written for both commenters (Matunuk re: Racing Bulls seat, Hansemannn re: Stenshorne).
- Warning: avoid claiming Stenshorne is at Hitech — Miyata is at Hitech per the standings. Use generic 'his team' phrasing.

YouTube — under consideration (next session topic)

- Discussed but not started. User leaning toward launching a channel to drive site traffic.
- Key constraint: FOM aggressively copyright-claims F2 race footage — no clip uploads.
- Viable formats: talking-head analysis, stats graphics + voiceover, Shorts with animated standings, career retrospectives with photos.
- Recommended low-effort angle: Shorts-only using stats visuals from the site. Post-race-weekend cadence.
- Promotion playbook: pinned comment with link (not just description), end-screen card, channel banner mentions site.

Next session — focus areas (social media & promotion)

- Build a content calendar for race weekends (pre-race / post-race posts across platforms).
- Draft initial YouTube/Shorts content plan — first 4 videos, format choice, production checklist.
- Decide channel branding (name, banner, profile photo) — needs to align with the site.
- Cross-platform strategy: Reddit (r/formula2, r/bulgaria), X/Twitter, TikTok, Instagram Reels — which to prioritize.
- Outreach: Bulgarian motorsport media, F2 fan accounts, potential interview/quote sourcing.
- Asset list: what images/graphics/copy from the site are reusable for social.

- Maintain a Reddit posting cadence without looking spammy (~1 post per race weekend, fresh news angle).
